Petersbourg, May 8. O. S.

'THE Czar returned to this Place from 'Cronslot on the 2d Instant, and is 'since removed from hence with his 'whole Court to a Country House, 'to pass the Summer there. His Czarish Majesty 'has made a Present to the Dutchess of Mecklen-'bourg of a very fine House, which formerly had 'belonged to one of the Brothers Soloffiof. That 'Princess soon after departed from hence, to meet 'the Duke her Husband in Germany. There are 'at present 22 Gallies on the Stocks, of a larger 'Size than is usual in these Northern Seas, the 'chief of them is of 42 Oars, but they cannot be 'ready to be launched before the End of this 'Month; and as the Men of War that are fitting 'out at Cronslot cannot put to Sea before the Be-'ginning of next Month, the Campaign will be a 'good deal later than it was at first intended. Ano-'ther Reason which will retard the Operations of 'the War, is, that the Men who are to serve on 'board that Fleet, are for the most part so sickly of 'the Scurvy, that they are quite unable for Service. 'That Distemper is very common in these Nor-'thern Parts, and is occasioned by the Rigour of 'the Climate, and though in the Beginning it may 'be easily cured, yet the coarse Food of those Peo-'ple, and their Want of proper Conveniencies and 'Remedies, makes it spread and increase among 'them. Count Gallowin was sent some time ago 'to Revel with secret Orders for the Fleet there, 'and we hear since, that 5 or 6 Men of War, un-'der the Command of Captain Hoost, are sail'd 'from that Port, but it is not known upon what 'Enterprize. The rest of the Fleet there, is not to 'put to Sea till further Orders. The Jesuits are 'expecting the Court's Resolution, whether their 'Papers will be restored to them, which were seiz-'ed when they received Orders to depart the Czar's 'Dominions.

London, June 9.

Yesterday arrived the Mail from Holland of Friday last.

From the Harlem Courant, dated June 17.

Lisbon, May 16. The Spaniards have at length obtained Leave to land their Men and Horses from the Transports driven by Storm into this Port, and to send them to Spain by two different Ways. The Number of the Men is said to amount to 400. It is not known what they will do with the Ships, the Crews of which are fled, for Fear of being forced to return to Cadiz, and of being taken by the English in their Way thither.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated June 16.

Cadiz, May 15. On the 19th Instant 4 Frigates from 20 to 30 Guns, which were formerly taken from the English, and are laden with some heavy Artillery and Ammunition, sailed from this Port: It is said they go to Barcelona, and that the Captain who commands them has Orders to run them a ground and blow them up, in case he should be attacked in his Voyage by the British Men of War. People are at Work to careen the Transports that put in here after the late Storm, and Orders have been sent to Lisbon and Vigo for the other Transports and Men of War that retired to those Ports, to come hither; but it is believed that this shattered Fleet will not be able in 5 or 6 Week's Time to put to Sea again.

Seuil, May 18. The King of Spain's Administrator General of the Customs in this City having established a Duty called Millon, on the Importation of Spices from Holland, M. van Beek the Dutch Consul has thought fit to protest against that Impost, as being directly contrary to the Tenour of the Treaties.

From the Hague Courant, dated June 16.

Stockholm, May 28. Brigadier le Fort is arrived here from Petersbourg, to condole with the Queen on the Part of the Czar upon the Death of the late King, and to compliment her Majesty on her Accession to the Crown. It is said, that our Army will be divided into 4 several Camps, to guard the Kingdom against any Invasion, and that the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel is to continue in this Place.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 16.

Rome, May 27. Princess Sobiesky continues incognito with the English Urselines; she has desired Leave of the Pope to go out of that Convent, to live in the House which the Pretender inhabited during his Stay here, and demanded two Gallies to sail to Spain; but as it seems that the Pope thinks that Voyage not safe enough for her, he has not yet declared his Resolution about that Affair. Count Gallas in an Audience he had of the Pope a few Days ago, protested against the Reception that Princess meets with here, after she had made her Escape from Inspruck, and declared to the Pope, that the Emperour will certainly resent it if he assists her in going to Spain. An extraordinary Congregation of the Cardinals has been held upon this, but it is not known what Resolution they have taken.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated June 16.

Milan, May 31. On the 26th Instant, Count Colloredo, Governour and Captain General of this [illegible] the Castle, being saluted with the Discharge of the Artillery, and received by Count Valderis, Marshal and Keeper of the Castle, with all the Marks of Honour that are usual on such Occasions. The next Day his Excelleney's two Sons arrived here. General Bonneval is likewise arrived here, to go and take upon him the Command of the Troops designed for the recovering Sardinia. Piemontese Recruits repair every Day to Nizza and Villa Franca, to serve in the same Expedition.

From the Hague Courant, dated June 16.

Venice, June 3. On the 1st Instant, Sig. Ruzzini, Ambassadour of this Republick to the Porte, sailed hence with two Men of War for Constantinople.

Vienna, June 3. We have here very fresh Letters from Constantinople dated May 15, which confirm the constant Resolution of the Porte, religiously to observe the late Treaty of Pacification: They add, that the Turkish Ambassadour is to be exchanged against ours between Parakin and Rasna. M. Rigo, second Secretary to the Dutch Ambassadour Count Collier, was arrived there from hence on the 2d past, and M. de la Fontaine from the Hague a few Days after, the latter bringing with him a Letter from the States General to the Sultan and the Grand Vizier, which the Ambassadour delivered on the 6th into the Hands of the Vizier, who received it with great Civility. The Emperour has declared Count Gallas Viceroy of Naples, and his Commission was sent him Yesterday from hence. The Empress Dowager Amalia went Yesterday with the two Archdutchesses her Daughters to Schonbrun, to reside there for the greatest part of the Summer. Yesterday M. Zamora, an Officer of Count Daun, arrived here from Naples, with Advice that on the 22d and 23d past the Transports with 16000 Men on board sailed from that Kingdom for Sicily. It is constantly reported, that the

Duke

Duke of Holstein is to come hither to receive of the Emperour the Investiture of his Dominions. Baron Eichholtz, the Duke of Mecklenburg's Minister has received by an Express certain Advice of the Death of the young Czarowitz at Petersbourg. M. Bussi the Russian Resident hearing that he would be ordered to leave the Hereditary Dominions of the Emperour in 3 Days time, went to Luxemburg, where he delivered to his Imperial Majesty when he was a Hunting, a Petition on his Knees, begging his Majesty to shew him Mercy in Consideration of his Family, and promising that he would never concern himself in any Foreign Prince's Affairs; the Emperour upon the Intercession of Count Althan, his Master of the Horse, pardoned him.
